

From june-2019 | Page 16:

Q5(a): When <https://www.ocr.org.uk> is entered into a browser, the website homepage is loaded. Describe the relationship between the website URL (<https://www.ocr.org.uk>), the IP address and the webserver.

From june-2022 | Page 4:

Q3(b): Complete the description of accessing websites using the given list of terms. Not all terms will be used. A website is hosted on a The computers that access the websites are called The user enters the into a web browser. The web browser sends a request to the for the matching IP (Internet Protocol) address. If found the IP address is returned. A request is then sent to this IP address. An IPv4 address is made of 4 groups of digits. Each group can be between the denary values and The groups of digits are separated by a

From june-2023 | Page 11:

Q5(c)(i): The artist uploads images to be displayed on a website. This is a client-server relationship. Identify the computer that is acting as the client in this scenario and justify your choice.

Q5(c)(ii): Identify the computer that is acting as the server in this scenario and justify your choice.

From nov-2019 | Page 16:

Q5(a): When <https://www.ocr.org.uk> is entered into a browser, the website homepage is loaded. Describe the relationship between the website URL (<https://www.ocr.org.uk>), the IP address and the webserver.

From nov-2020 | Page 4:

Q2(d): Explain why Hope's network uses a peer-to-peer model and not a client-server model.

From nov-2020 | Page 5:

Q2(e): Some of Hope's files are stored on the cloud. Describe the benefits and drawbacks to Hope of storing her files on the cloud.

From nov-2020 | Page 14:

Q6(c)(i): Computer 1 enters the URL www.ocr.org.uk into a web browser. This is then converted into the IP address of the webserver that hosts the website. Explain how the URL www.ocr.org.uk is converted into the IP address.

From sample-paper | Page 10:

Q10(b): Explain two advantages to the law company of storing their data in the Cloud.

Q10(c): Explain two disadvantages to the law company of storing their data in the Cloud.